

For the purposes of these terms "You" means any donor who has an account with The Charity Service ("TCS") and any person for whom such donor is legally responsible. You agree to use TCS's website (the "Site") only in accordance with these terms.

The Site allows You to log on and to view Your account, to generate requests for payment to be made to Your selected charities and in the case of Payshare donors to create and amend the records of Your favoured charity. You agree that TCS is entitled to act in accordance with any instructions it receives via the Site with respect to Your account which purport to originate with You. TCS may in its discretion decline to execute any instruction where TCS suspects such instruction is or may be fraudulent. In such circumstances TCS will inform You of its decision to decline to execute the instruction as soon as reasonably practicable bearing in mind any investigation or internal action TCS may wish to carry out.

You are solely responsible for ensuring the security of Your account access details including the user name and password used by You to access Your account.

You must ensure that You log out after every time You log on to Your account and that Your computer is not left logged on to Your account when any other person might be able to have access to it. You must not disclose Your user name or password to any third party and must take adequate steps to keep Your user name and password confidential. You should memorise Your user name and password and not write them down or record them. If You become aware or suspect that any third party has become aware of Your user name or password or that any activity not requested by you has occurred with relation to Your account You should inform TCS immediately.

You agree to indemnify TCS against all costs claims damages and expenses arising out of any false fraudulent or misleading instructions received via the Site with respect to Your account or using Your user name or password or out of Your breach of the above terms. TCS shall in no circumstances be liable to repay or reimburse any payment made by it as a result of any instruction received from it via the Site except in cases of fraud or wilful misconduct on the part of any person for whom TCS is legally liable.
